through the Brown & Williamson plant are conducted Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. To resume the historic and cultural tour, return east on Hill Street to Third and turn right.)

J. B. Speed Art Museum, Third and Shipp—Founded in 1925, the J. B. Speed Art Museum is on Belknap Campus of the University of Louisville. It contains modern and historic art of all periods. The collection is comprised of paintings, sculpture, drawings, and prints, and is especially rich in the area of decorative arts: tapestries, ceramics, furniture and metalwork. The Preston Pope Satter-White Collection notably represents the arts of the late Middle Ages and the Renaissance. The permanent collection is augmented monthly by loan exhibitions of all art forms, and the Museum maintains a Rental and Sales Gallery, representing original works of art by living artists.

A Day's Tour of LOUISVILLE

University of Louisville, 2301 S. Third—Dating back to 1798, this is the oldest municipal university in America. Seven of its 10 colleges are located on this campus; the Schools of Medicine and Dentistry are situated in the Medical Center downtown, while the music school is located on the Kentucky Southern campus.

Remain on Third Street to Central Avenue and there turn right to Churchill Downs, perhaps the most famous racing establishment in the world.

Churchill Downs, 700 Central Ave.—Famed for its twin spires towering over the grandstand and for its flower gardens, the Downs is the home of the Kentucky Derby, the world's oldest continuously-run horse race, which is held traditionally the first Saturday in May as part of a three-week spring meeting. Another meeting is held in the fall. A museum of thoroughbred horse racing is open to the public.

From Churchill Downs, retrace the route to Third Street and continue out Third to Southern Parkway to Iroquois Park.
